CHARLESTOWN, VA., October 25. The preliminary examination of the prisoners captured at Hupper's Ferry commenced this morning before the Migistrate's Court. The tollowing magistrate's coerquied the bench: Coll. Davenport, Presiding Justice, assisted by Dr. Alexander, John J. Lock, John F. Smith, Thomas H. Wills, Geo. W. Richelberger, Charles H. Lewis, and Moses W. Burr. At half past ten o'clock the Sheriff was directed to 1 mg in the prisoners, who were conducted from the jul under a guard of eighty armed men. A guard was also a guard of eighty armed men. A guard was also stationed around the court-house, and by onest are bristling on all sides. Chas. B. Hurding, Attorney for the county, is assisted by A. Hunter, Actioney for the county, is assisted by A. Hinter, counsel for the Commonwealth. The prisoners came from the Western Reserve, Ohia; that Brown came there in August and employed him

General Brown and E. Cappee being manageled together. Brown seemed week and haggard, with his eyes swolken from the effect of the wounds on his head. Cappee is unit jured. Stevens seemed less injured than Brown, but looked haggard and depressed. There are a number of wounds on the head of both. John Copland is a bright malatte, about 25 years old, and Green, who is about 50 years old, and Green, who is about 50 years of age, is a dark negro.

Sherilf Campbell read the commitment of the prisoners charged with treason and nurder. Harding, the State Attorney, asked the court if he might assign a counsel for the prisoners if they had none. The court inquired if the prisoners if they had none. The court inquired if the prisoners had a counsel, when Brown addressed the court as follows:

Brown replied, "I wish to say that I have sent for counsel; I did apply through the advice of some person here to some persons whose names I do not now recollect to act as counsel for me, and I have sent for other counsel, who have had no possible opportunity to see me. I wish for counsel if I am to have a trial, but if I am to have nothing but the mockery of a trial, as I said, I do not eare unything about counsel, it is unnecessary to trouble may gentleman with that dairy."

I cannot remember whether he was one, because I have heard so many names. I am a stranger here; I do not know the disposition or character of the gentlemen ramed. I have applied for counsel of my own, and doubtless could have them if I am not, as I said before, to be hurried to execution before they can reach here; but if that is the disposition that is to be made of me, all this trouble and expense can be saved."

The reason given for hurrying the trial is, that the people of the whole country are kept in a state of excitement, and a large force is required to prevent attempts at rescue.

It is presumed that the prisoners will demand separate trials. After conviction, let a few days will be given them before expention. It is thought all except Brown will make full confession.

Lewis Washington stated that about I o'clock, on Sunday night, he was asteen and was awakened by a noise, and heard his name called. He went down and was surrounded by six men. Stevens was in command. Cook, Cappee, and two negroes, prisoners, were along, another white man whom he afterwards recognized as Kagi. Washington then proceeded to detail all the particulars of his being taken as a prisoner, with the negroes, to the armory, and the subsequent events up to the attack by the U.S. marines and their delivery. A. M. Kittsmiller gave the particulars of his being taken prisoner and locked up. He subse-

On one occasion during the attack, I said to Brown the is getting to be serious work, and if tended throughout a portion of Ohio, New York, you will allow me to interfere, I can possibly compromise matters. and was prepared to curry out his designs; that his object was not to make war against the people, arms in the hands of the negroes, and proposed to free all slaves in the vicinity. Brown repeatedly said that his whole object was to release the slaves, and asked him if some plan could not be arranged for the liberation of himself and prisoners; could only be released by turnishing able bodied slaves in place of each. I recognize Stevens, Green, and Brown. Capt. Brown told the prisoners, when the charge of U. Eight cuts, from one to two inches long, and extending to the line, were found on her head, and the fire shovel was 10md, literally colored with blood, in the yard. The chamber where the villain first assulthd her, contained two large pools of blood, from her wounds. Her neck was also discolored, where the sconndrel had choked her to prevent her cries for assistance. As soon as Mrs. Adkins told who was the perpetrator, parties went out in search of, and exptured the soot rullian, and soon had him in juil at Morganfield. It was with difficulty that the more reflecting citizens could prevent lynch law being applied on the
